

Sprint 3 burndown chart

In sprint 2, we finished 27 story points. In this sprint, our velocity increased as we finished 34 story points. This sprint each member was getting more familiar with our technology stack and productivity was going up, which explains this increase in velocity to us. In future sprints as we gain familiarity with the Agile development methodology, we imagine that our velocity will further increase.

This sprint we managed to complete all of our assigned tasks.
